Air Challenge By Royal City To Spark Drive

New Westminster Mayor to "Pay"
If Mainland Chest Fund Lags

The Mayor of New Westminster is going to be a "rink rat" in Victoria's Memorial Arena.

In a challenge which will be broadcast over both radio stations here at noon today, Mayor Jackson of the Royal City will dare Victoria to give more money than his city does in a one-night stand Community Chest appeal on Oct. 1.

Last year cities all over the continent watched with interest as Victoria staged a dramatic "Porchlight Parade" and reached an objective of $181,000 in one blazing night.

READY TO PAY
This year Mayor Jackson says if New Westminster can't beat Victoria at its own game, he will personally sweep the ice in the Arena during the first ice hockey match between the cities.

"If New Westminster fails in this undertaking," the mayor says, "I will take the penalty myself."

At 7 p.m. on Oct. 1, the race will begin, with both cities staging a whirlwind campaign. Victoria's slogan this year will be "Again, Give Where You Live." Residents will be asked to switch their porchlights on at 7 p.m., signifying their willingness to give donations to the 2500 canvassers who will go through the city.

Howe to Head Trade Experts

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP)—Canada has decided to send its top trade representative to Geneva Sept. 17 in what appears to be a move to lend weight to Canadian proposals to foster international channels of free trade.

The external affairs department announced tonight that Trade Minister Howe will head a seven-man delegation of economic and financial officials to represent Canada at a directors' meeting of the 34-country General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

This pact, first developed in 1947, is the Canada-backed international instrument for reducing tariffs and customs "red tape" clogging the channels of free trade.

New Anglican Primate of All Canada To Be Elected and Installed Today

A new Primate of All Canada will be elected and installed by the Church of England today in Victoria.

Election will take place when the House of Bishops and lay members meet as an upper and lower house of the Church's electoral college. Installation will follow at 8 p.m.

Both events will take place in Christ Church Cathedral. The election sessions will follow a service of Holy Communion in the cathedral at 9:30 a.m.

A reply to Mayor Jackson's dare will be broadcast by Mayor Percy George, in which he will take up the challenge, backed by Victorians who last year took to the campaign eagerly.

The race between the cities will be on a percentage basis. Mayor Jackson has set his city's quota at one-third more than last year.

It is expected that Miss Inez McLeod, P.N.E. queen, will accept the title of Miss Community Chest this year.

The campaign will also feature a descriptive broadcast from an airplane over the city while the drive is under way.

Will Extend Plane Search For Bush Pilot

EDMONTON, Sept. 6 (CP)—The aerial search in the North West Territories for bush pilot Johnny Bourassa, resumed yesterday after a lapse of 2½ months, is to be extended.

The R.C.A.F. said here today that two more aircraft will join the already engaged in the hunt east of Yellowknife.

An R.C.A.F. plane from Winnipeg today was sent to the search area. It will be joined tomorrow by another from Rivers, Man. Already in the search are four R.C.A.F. planes and one aircraft from Associated Airways.

A maximum of 13 planes covered 160,000 square miles in the first phase of the search after the Peace River, Alta. pilot, about 30, disappeared May 18 on a 200-mile northern flight.

A note left by Bourassa said he stayed with his plane five days and then, May 23, started a northwesterly trek through desolate bush and muskeg country which he hoped would end at a settlement on the south shore of Great Bear Lake.

Ottawa has seen plenty of men in naval uniform, but not many navy ships. It got its chance recently when five R.C.N. Fairmiles passed down the Rideau Canal on the way to Kingston, Ont., after attending the Great Lakes Naval Regatta. Thousands of citizens lined the banks of the canal to watch the 117-foot vessels inch through the eight locks into the Ottawa River. (CP photo.)

Cigarette Shortage Looming

Want to cut down on your smoking?

It's simple—you just keep smoking until there are no more cigarettes on the market.

Victoria tobacco wholesalers say that unless the three-week-old strike in the Imperial Tobacco Company is settled soon, many smokers will find their favorite brands disappearing from stores.

Second Allied Force Encircled by Reds

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Sept. 7 (Friday) (AP)—Communist troops, blowing bugles and whistles, surrounded an Allied patrol base before dawn today northwest of Chonwon in Western Korea.

Contact also was broken with another assaulted Allied patrol base, but its members were believed to be withdrawing safely.

Today's encirclement was the second in two days in Western Korea—heightening speculation that a huge Communist offensive, using thousands of freshly imported Caucasian Soviet puppet troops, might be brewing.

An American company Thursday fought its way out of a Red tank-forged trap 35 miles north of Seoul after an 18-hour battle.

At 5 a.m. today, two Red companies encircled an Allied patrol base northwest of Chonwon, western end of the old "iron triangle."

An Allied tank-infantry force began moving north in a rescue effort.

The second Allied patrol base also northwest of Chonwon was attacked after 120 rounds of Red artillery fire hit the position.

"Allied communications with the patrol base went out about midnight. Earlier reports indicated these troops were pulling back."

An Allied unit was sent to these aid.

Both actions lacked the intensity of Thursday's attack by a reinforced Red regiment more than 3,000 men—supported by tanks, west of Yonchon.

In the west, exhausted infantrymen reached the bank of the Imjin River as darkness fell, ending a two-hour march through Chinese fire.

The 18-hour battle broke a long lull on the western front.

War of Charges, Denials Raging On Over Kaesong

TOKYO, Sept. 7 (Friday) (AP)—The wordy battle of charges, denials—and denials of denials—spun crazily on today after Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway ruled out Kaesong as a site for resuming the Red-suspended Korean truce talks.

The continued arguments and an upsurge of fighting offered no optimism for an early renewal of the talks.

Today North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, the chief Red negotiator, added two more notes to the mounting list.

As broadcast from Peiping, the notes rejected as "absolutely unsatisfactory" three notes sent him

Second Red Blast Lone Jarring Note

Mild Reservations Noted
By Intended Signatories

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Soviet bloc fired a damp second round today for the only discordant note in a full day of speech-making at the Japanese peace conference.

The Red dissent lacked the pyrotechnic brilliance of the denunciation yesterday by Russia's fiery Andrei Gromyko.

Of 19 delegations that spoke, only the Czechoslovak Dr. Gert-rude Sekaninova opposed the "soft" treaty draft presented at Wednesday's opening session by the United States and Britain.

Some others recorded varying mild reservations, but primarily for the record, either stating or indicating that they intend to sign.

Poland, the third Red country represented, will be heard late Friday, but the feeling grew among American delegates that the signing ceremony would take place Saturday on schedule.

Dr. Sekaninova's speech of a little more than her allotted hour followed the usual Communist line. She read it at the afternoon session.

The other 18 speakers praised the treaty text with only a few minor discords.

France's Foreign Minister Robert Schuman called for a mutual assistance treaty in the Pacific "for the defense of all the countries still concerned by the remaining threats."

This was the first time France had talked at a Pacific Pact comparable to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"France will support and sign the treaty," M. Schuman said.

The next step in world co-operation, M. Schuman said, would be stopping the war in Korea. "We want peace for the Korean people," he added.

Dick L. Stikker, Netherlands foreign minister, told the conference "some of the provisions of the proposed treaty have not been unanimously favorable in my country."

Expects Russian Walk-Out

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6 (AP)—Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire today quoted what he called a well-informed source as saying Andrei Gromyko and his fellow delegates of the Soviet-led bloc plan to walk out on the Japanese peace conference.

The Republican legislator, ranking minority member of the U.S. Senate's Armed Services Committee, told newsmen in San Francisco.

"I received information today from a former delegation whose intelligence I have found from past experience is unusually accurate that Andrei Gromyko and the Soviet delegation plan to stage a walkout."

Flood Threat Eased in U.S.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 6 (AP)—The flood of the Kansas River crest passed into the Missouri tonight without further damage to the three industrial districts mauled by July's record overflow.

It meant relief to householders, business men and railroad officials who had watched anxiously as the river threatened for the second time this summer.

Army Police Seeking Trio

WINNIPEG, Sept. 6 (CP)—R.C.M.P. and army service police are watching the western approaches to Winnipeg for three soldiers who escaped custody near here today.

The soldiers were identified as Ptes. E. F. Merlin, 25; R. E. Corbin, 25; and W. Ferguson, 26, all of the 3rd Battalion, R.C.R.s. They escaped shortly before noon today after eluding their escort on a train 60 miles west of here.

No details of the charges against the three men were immediately available.

Nine Applicants For Prosecutor

Nine Victoria lawyers have applied for the position of city prosecutor to succeed retiring Claude L. Harrison.

The special committee named to screen the applicants is expected to meet next week. The setting probably will be held behind closed doors.

Retirement date of Mr. Harrison, who will be a majority candidate, is Sept. 30.

Crosby's Casually-Crammed Cadillac Carries Crooner, Companion to Fish

Wearing a rainbow for a hat band, Bing Crosby turned up in Victoria yesterday, just as casual as if he were making a movie. His big Cadillac loaded with fishing rods, waders, baskets and golf clubs, the Crooner came prepared for anything—anything, that is, except something that called for a serious approach.

He did not stay in Victoria, pausing only long enough for lunch as the Empress before trying a few holes of golf at Victoria Golf Club links. Later he and script writer Bill Morrow drove to Campbell River where they will take advice of Phil Harris for a try at the tyees.

AD-LIBBING
"Don't know how long we'll be staying," Bing remarked. "We're just sort of ad-libbing around."

As he climbed into his car, reporters laughingly reminded Der Bingle that he had been refused a room in Vancouver Hotel when he turned up in old fishing clothes, and asked him if he were afraid it might happen here.

"Yeah," chuckled the singer, glancing up at the Empress. "I didn't take any chances—got me a room up the road." "Up the road" meant Campbell River, where he will stay with friends.

"Golfing or fishing weather?" wondered Bing Crosby as he paused on Victoria Golf Club links to eye the weather. Bing has the weather beaten on this trip—if it rains he'll head for Campbell River—for a try at the tyees, and if the sky stays blue he'll play golf. He'll stay on the Island "just as long as I feel like it," he said. (Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Design Brightens Next Year's License Plates

For the first time, B.C.'s license plates next year will have a design, a totem pole set into a maple leaf. The new license plates have black figures on a silvery background. They are made of an aluminum alloy and are much lighter in weight than the old steel ones. The totem pole-maple leaf design will make B.C. license plates conspicuous. Only one other Canadian province—Saskatchewan—has such a distinctive plate. The Saskatchewan plates say "The Wheat Province." Many

U.S. states have slogans, such as New York, the Empire State; Wisconsin, America's Dairyland; Minnesota, 10,000 lakes. B.C.'s license plates are made by prisoners at Oakalla. Victoria's quota has now reached the motor license building on Menzies Street and is under lock and key. In 1953 a tab will be inserted, so that new plates won't be necessary until 1954. The commercial license plate only has the totem pole—there's no room for the maple leaf, as there are more letters on the commercial plate.

ALL ABOARD

SEATTLE.—Modern industrial magic turns waste oil from California refineries into city gas and carbon briquettes for stoves and furnaces.

Accompanying a group of Victoria coal-dealers and other representatives of press and radio, I toured the plant and emerged with a good part of the company's carbon output smeared on my face and hands.

For the junkie we had to put on blue smocks and hard hats as a precaution against grime and falling objects.

My friends the coal dealers had been soberly dressed in business suits. When I saw them all changed into this strange, dramatic garb, I felt as a godly man might feel the other side of the gates, when people he knew crowded around with their harps and robes of light—or pitchforks and black overalls.

Fred Bennett, assistant superintendent of the plant, told us what we were going to see, then elaborated as we scrambled up and down metal stairs.

Seattle domestic gas is made mostly from the residue of California oil refineries. A tanker arrives about once a month with 50,000 barrels of the stuff. Seattle and Portland have the only two plants in the world making gas from oil by the "Pacific Coast process." Seattle uses 42,000,000 gallons of oil per year.

The gas generators are big steel towers which blow their tops and hiss at intervals, and discharge a constant stream of dirty water.

Oil is sprayed on a checker-brick lining inside the generator, which is kept at a temperature of 1,700 degrees, Fahrenheit. With the aid of steam and water, the oil cracks into gas, lampblack, tar and other products.

Gas goes through a series of scrubbers which remove the remaining tar, hydrogen sulphide and naphthalene (the basic ingredient of mothballs, also used for insecticides, fertilizer, and chemicals), and through an oil bath which dissolves out light oils.

The dirty water which rushes out of the gas generator and down a flume contains the raw materials for furnace briquettes—lampblack (carbon) and tar. The flumes take the lampblack slurry through a wash-box to a big circular pond called a Dorr thickener, where the water content is reduced from 98 to about 95 per cent by a separation process.

The liquid is pumped to drum-type filters, where water content is reduced to 40 per cent. Suction inside pulls water through the revolving fabric, leaves carbon as a cake on the outside. The carbon is thumped-off by rhythmic machine blows and falls on a conveyor belt which leads to driers and away again to moulds where the material is stamped into briquettes.

As they pass over a conveyor belt, sample briquettes are picked off and tested for strength under a hand press.

During the summer there are never enough briquettes to meet demand, because briquettes are a by-product of gas, and gas production goes down in summer. If it were not for by-products, which make up perhaps one-third of revenue, cost of gas would be prohibitive.

Light oils removed from the gas are mostly sold to the U.S. government. They include benzol, which goes into synthetic rubber, soap powders; toluene (the second T in TNT) which also goes into paints and drugs; xylene, which goes into drugs, chemicals, paint; solvent naphtha—roofing compounds; and resin—which goes to make a base for the yellow, centre lines painted on Washington highways.

Small quantities of naphthalene removed from the gas are used for fertilizers. Tar goes into electrodes for making aluminum.

Mainland Firm May Make Arena Survey

A physical survey of the Memorial Arena will be made by Swan, Rhodes and Wooster, engineers, of Vancouver, if next Tuesday the city council approves a finance committee recommendation made yesterday morning.

The committee recently instructed city manager C. C. Wyatt to work with the arena commission in making arrangements for the survey.

Colin Graham Named Curator Of Art Centre

Curator of the proposed Civic Arts Centre and Gallery will be Colin Graham, a former Vancouver man and University of British Columbia graduate.

Mrs. A. S. Wyllie, arts centre president, said yesterday Mr. Graham will take up his new position in October.

He is the son of the late Dr. Colin Graham, well-known Vancouver specialist who practiced in this city at one time. The new curator has been lecturer and director of education at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor at San Francisco for the last two years.

Drought Aids Drainage Work

The summer drought has aided Saanich's drainage program this year.

Henry Blakeney, superintendent of works, said low water at Colquitz Creek has allowed work on rock obstructions and a new bridge on Interurban Road. Concrete abutments of the new bridge will be almost twice as far apart as those of the old bridge and will permit straightening of the stream to increase the flow of water during the flood season.

will report after its investigation. 1. The cause of the floor-heaving and a remedy. 2. Is there any danger of the small refrigeration pipes through the concrete floor or the headers breaking as a result of movement or strain placed upon them by the heating floor? 3. Is there any danger of the bond between the concrete and the pipes breaking, allowing air to attack the pipes with resulting corrosion, and, if so, how serious is this danger and what can be done to avert it? 4. Is the cost of electrical power being substantially increased by reason of the absence of insulation under the pipes. About what saving, if any, would have been made if proper insulation had been installed. Can this be remedied now? 5. The spray pond is unsatisfactory in some respects and it is believed it is using too much water. Are there other devices which could replace the spray pond or be used in conjunction with it to save water? NO PLAN 6. Apparently the electrical conduits were not laid according to plan and there are no plans showing their present location. Also, there is no central control of lighting. 7. In order to change burnt-out lighting equipment staging has to be erected at considerable expense. Can this be overcome? 8. A report on the safety of the fan platform, gondolas and other fixtures suspended from the roof. 9. The commission is having trouble controlling the movement of the people through the concession rooms. Is there anything that can be done to control and expedite the movement of people so there can be an increase in the number served and the volume of sales? The city will have to enter into a contract with the firm, setting forth the terms of employment and fees to be paid.

Anti-Soviet Solidarity Displayed at Parley

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
AP News Analyst

Six years ago at San Francisco, when the United Nations was being formed, the Soviet delegation was wooed by many others nations and it had a real influence in producing the final charter.

Wednesday, at San Francisco, at another international gathering even larger than the first, the Soviets were ignored.

The most significant thing about the Japanese Treaty Conference, aside from the foreign conclusion of the pact itself, is the demonstration of anti-Russian solidarity by the rest of the world.

The Soviet Union and the satellites it controls by force had not one friend at court. Its efforts were virtually gavelled off the floor with the full assent of the non-communist world—India excepted.

No longer, in any body, for which the rules of procedure could be fixed in the light of today's facts instead of under the pressure of the world peace dreams of 1945, would the Russians be able to demand consideration.

WASTING LITTLE TIME

Their policy, their actions and their aggressive intentions now have outmoded the Allied idea of keeping the record straight—by at least some attention to Russian views. The door to Russian entry into the comity of nations has not been closed, but nobody is wasting much time any more trying to pull her through it.

One interesting sidelight on the situation is the possibility that Andrei Gromyko, deputy Russian foreign minister, may lose his job for his ineptness at San Francisco. He got himself steam-rollered by American tactics, and the Russian system does not long condone failure. Not right now, but later when it will not appear as a direct result of defeat, world opinion may be rid of this man who has become the personification, in partnership with Vishinsky, of Russian intransigence.

Doctors Said Running Wild

Probe Hears Charges Of Over-Prescription

ABBOTSFORD, B.C., Sept. 6 (CP).—A charge that doctors have been "running wild" in prescribing drugs in hospitals was made here before the special legislative committee investigating operation of the Hospital Insurance Service.

A. M. Guiney, chairman, and Paul Russell, administrator of the Chilliwack hospital, made the charge yesterday in testimony at a committee hearing in Abbotsford.

They claimed that doctors are doubling and tripling hospital drug bills by prescribing "in excess of need" and using expensive anti-biotics where less costly ones would do. The heavy drug charges contributed to deficits faced by B.C. hospitals, they said.

DOCTOR DISAGREES

Dr. J. Zakrout of Abbotsford denied the charges.

"We know what drug a disease takes and I think we are trained enough to administer it," he said.

Mr. Guiney said the Chilliwack hospital board is "not happy" under B.C.H.S.

Find One Hospital Not Complaining

ABBOTSFORD, B.C., Sept. 6. Members of the British Columbia Hospital Insurance Service inquiry board were taken slightly aback Wednesday when they talked to a contented hospital board of directors.

"Taking B.C.H.S. as a whole we have no complaints," Fred Connors, secretary-manager of the Abbotsford Hospital, told the committee.

"We have found it to be working to the advantage of our hospital," Connors gave credit to the staff of the 14-bed hospital for keeping food costs to within $10 of two years ago.

Oddities

BOSTON, Sept. 6 (AP).—City Councilor Julius Ansel had a "exactly" big problem on his hands today.

When Ansel discovered the city zoo had no hippopotamus, he ordered a hippo from South Africa. The zoo told Ansel it had no accommodations and even radioed, "Don't send!" to Africa. But Putzi, the hippo, has arrived at a nearby animal farm. The price is $4,000. It weighs a half-ton, eats $4 worth of hay and vegetables daily, and gets bigger by the minute.

Without results, Ansel has proposed (1) collecting pennies from school kids, (2) getting pennies from theatre patrons, (3) getting the Governor of Massachusetts to pay for Putzi.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Sept. 6 (CP).—Miss Vera Melvor has been driving a car for 25 years without a driver's license.

She found out today it was the wrong thing. In police court she was fined $25 on a charge of driving without a license.

Prepare Gift For Princess

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP).—Toronto's personal gift to Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will be a diamond-encrusted maple leaf pin and a pair of diamond-set gold cufflinks, civic officials announced today.

At the same time, an oil painting of a typical Canadian scene will be presented to the royal couple.

Rising Costs Of Imports Hitting U.K.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP).—The British chancellor of the exchequer, Hugh Gaitskell, said today that Britain has run into serious financial difficulties from rising import costs, but is not asking at this time for new direct American aid.

Gaitskell left open after a round of conferences whether Britain will ask for a waiver of some $76,000,000 due this year on the $3,750,000,000 loan the United States extended in 1946.

In a meeting with Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer, he also made plain that his country would welcome a chance to buy more, scarce steel from the U.S.

The chancellor, who arrived yesterday, had meetings with Treasury Secretary John Snyder and with Charles E. Wilson, director of defense mobilization. They were the first of a series of high-level talks the U.S. is having with British and French officials, leading up to next week's meeting of the Big Three foreign ministers here and a subsequent session of the North Atlantic Treaty organization at Ottawa.

These will cover the whole range of problems faced by the west in its arms buildup against Communist pressure.

Company Urges Barring Reds From Union Posts, Bargaining

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 6 (CP).—A recommendation that the British Columbia Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act be amended to prohibit Communists from holding office in a labor organization or representing any labor groups in collective bargaining was made here today by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada Limited.

The recommendation was presented to a special legislative committee now holding hearings into operations of the act.

The company's brief pointed out that the majority of Canadians realize that Communism is a threat to national security and that the presence of Communists in office in trade unions and representing employees in bargaining prevents confidence and good will between employees and employers.

The brief urged amendment of the act so that no one could hold a union office or bargain for union members without first filing an affidavit that he is not a member of or affiliated with the Communist party.

The taking of a false affidavit would subject the offender to

Reception Shocks Black Bear

PORT ANGELES, Sept. 6 (AP).—Somewhere up in the Olympic mountains is a big black bear still wondering what hit him.

The bear had become an increasing nuisance in the past two years around Olympic Hot springs. It took some ingenious teenagers to send Bear's Bear packing.

They set an old bedspring out next to one of the cabins, and on it laid out some chicken bones. They then connected a wire to the bedspring, hooked it to a battery, and waited. When bruin, a short while later, made for the banquet with his tongue hanging out, they set him have it.

The marauding bear shot into the air like a skyrocket, the boys report, and it only long enough to take off up the nearest trail.

Princess to Speak On Air to Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP).—Princess Elizabeth will make an address, to be broadcast to all Canada, while she is in the capital next month. It was disclosed today with release of the official Ottawa program.

The address will be made at a state dinner the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 3—the day they arrive here for a two-day stay—and will be in reply to a toast by Viscount Alexander, the Governor-General.

The dinner will be held at Government House, home of Viscount and Viscountess Alexander and the residence of the Princess and the Duke of Edinburgh while they are in the capital. It will be followed by an official reception.

The state dinner and the broadcast will be the highlights of an action-packed itinerary. The Princess and the Duke, who land at Quebec Oct. 2, will arrive in the capital at 10 a.m. October 3.

On hand to greet them officially will be the Governor-General and Viscountess Alexander, Prime Minister and Mrs. St. Laurent and acting mayor Charles Whitton of Ottawa.

One-Way Commitment

AFTER a two-hour debate and a close decision in committee, the city council has produced little yet to support the recommendation to itself that the city accept the Spencer home on Moss Street "in trust for the Arts Centre of Greater Victoria," forego its taxes of $870, spend $250 on building upkeep and an estimated $2,100 on grounds annually. Even without the annual grant of $3,000, which the committee deleted, this would amount to $2,620 yearly which the city would have to find in some other manner. No such arrangement exists between the city and the Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., the Salvation Army or any other group or organization of at least equivalent merit within city limits. The city does make grants in lieu of taxes, and on church property imposes no taxes; but the upkeep of buildings and the maintenance of grounds without cost, save to city taxpayers, has never yet been offered to any Greater Victoria agency.

As the matter stands, this is a one-way commitment. If the city council at a plenary session on Tuesday adopts the report of the committee of the whole, it will run past the last of these visible warning signals into an improvident bargain. There is no guarantee in the reported facts that this would bring into being an arts centre and gallery for the yearly outlay by Victoria ratepayers of $2,620. To the very next council would go the inevitable request for a fixed cash grant, either in the sum of $3,000 or some other. Even if the city had legal authority to enter such a contract with a "Greater Victoria" group, and that is doubtful, the taxpayers have seen no money by-law and have given no mandate either for this annual outlay or the proposed remission of taxes. The city's first trust is to its own taxpayers. On Tuesday the council should re-examine its stand, with less haste and a little more realism. Conditional gifts and one-way commitments are most often doorways to future trouble.

Drivers and Liquor

IRRESPONSIBLE motorists who mix liquor and gasoline may be willing to take a chance on a substantial fine and license suspension, but are more likely to exercise prudence if they know that the minimum penalty for drunken driving is a jail sentence. For that reason we believe it would be a mistake to give too wide application to the new amendment to the Criminal Code which creates an offense of driving "while faculties are impaired by alcohol." For this the minimum penalty is a fine, rather than the seven-day jail term laid down for a conviction of driving while intoxicated.

When copies of the amendment were received here recently the prosecution changed a charge against a suspected motorist from one of intoxicated driving to one conforming to the new section. There may have been good reason for doing so in that particular instance; but the fact that other cases since then have been presented similarly seems to suggest a tendency to treat the amendment as having been designed for first offenders rather than degrees of culpability. Such an interpretation is hardly in keeping with the intention of the act. It seems clear from debate and explanations in the Commons at the time that the purpose was not so much to make punishment less severe as to prevent the guilty from getting off scot-free in cases where liquor is a factor but the prosecution may be unable to establish "intoxication" within the wide range of meaning applied to the word.

Where the prosecution has reason for assurance that a charge of intoxicated driving can be sustained by the evidence available, there is a duty to bring the suspected person into court on the major count. Parliament has not viewed the offense of intoxication at the wheel with any lessening of gravity, and has not reduced the statutory minimum punishment. It is for the court, and not the prosecution, to take the matter of first offense into account.

The change in the code may make it easier to obtain convictions by recourse to the new section, but if that were to become general practice in all cases involving drivers and liquor, much of the salutary value would be lost. Getting drunk is a voluntary act, and in few cases can there be any ground for leniency towards one who does so before driving anything as potentially deadly as an automobile, first offense notwithstanding.

Looking Into the Future

HOW FEY Dr. James Conant of Harvard may be he probably does not know himself but for what they are worth this distinguished chemist offers some glimpses into the future. He leaves scientific fact behind when he ventures among the imponderables of political behaviour; nevertheless he does not foresee an atomic war nor indeed any other kind of world conflict.

This view runs counter to most expectations, which are of necessity oriented in the opposite direction simply by virtue of the instinct of self-preservation and the standing threat of Russia. To Dr. Conant last year marked the turning point that will lead to eventual disarmament, because collective security among the Western nations became the reality now symbolized by Korea and the Atlantic Pact. Conceivably this could be so and the Korean armistice talks, albeit suspended at the moment, an indication of the change.

By the middle of this decade, although surely before that even, the Harvard president envisages the Western powers so strong that Russia will be checkmated in Europe, which of course is the purpose of the current alliance now being forged under General Eisenhower. He does not touch on the fears inherent in the situation when two well-armed camps glare at each other at full strength, which is full of its own disturbing possibilities.

No easy road lies ahead, however. Even though he thinks no atomic war is in the offing Dr. Conant expects the coming years to be full of anxiety for a humanity seeking desperately a way out of the atomic age, about which he is more likely to be right than wrong. Not until the 1960's does he foresee real constructive steps away from war being taken. By that time, it might be added, some of the present world principals are likely to be dead or out of power and a new deal cast for humanity as a result.

According to Dr. Conant it will be 20 years before the United Nations reaches the stage where agreement on disarmament is possible. That is none too comforting a prediction, although he would perhaps be a bold man who would dissent from it in view of the likelihood of a taut and precarious world situation for many years to come.

NO PERSONALITIES

Sir.—Was surprised in reading a Victoria paper of recent issue to note the extent to which personalities have entered the Esquimalt by-election even before the real campaign starts. I am sure that the personal references both to Commander Wurtele, independent candidate, and myself were unwarranted.

In the eleven years that I have been member of the legislature I have taken part in many election campaigns and never once have I ever dealt in personalities or even mentioned the names of any of the opposing candidates.

Surely it is the democratic right for a citizen of the standing of Commander Wurtele, who is a councillor of Esquimalt, to decide, if he so wishes, to be a candidate in a by-election without being the object of personal attack, and I am equally sure that it is the democratic right of a member of the legislature to signify his intention to take part in a by-election without being personally attacked.

SONS OF FREEDOM

Sir.—It seems a crying shame that a country like the Adams River Valley and Adams Lake should be given up to this intractable sect, the Sons of Freedom.

I first traveled this lake in 1906, and have been on it on several occasions since, and have always been struck with its beauty.

The adjacent country teems with mule deer, bear, mountain goat, etc., and the streams, such as the Upper Adams River, as far north as Tum-Tum Lake, Cayenne Creek, Momich River, and lakes are among the best fishing grounds in the whole of the Interior and so close to main transportation.

There are many reasons against the move, one is there is not enough arable land in the whole valley to support the sect, and as there will be a natural increase this reason will be more acute as time goes on, and we would then have them spreading out over the Shuswap Lake and South Thompson River areas, which would absolutely ruin them. These areas are amongst the most delightful parts of British Columbia.

The second reason is the proximity to the main All-Canada Highway, and the Canadian Pacific Railway, which would both be vulnerable to their depredations.

I hope the Chambers of Commerce of Kamloops, Chase, Salmon Arm, all the north Okanagan towns, and the citizens of the villages and settlements around Shuswap Lake rise in strength against this proposal.

The powers that be must know that there are many valleys in northern British Columbia far more suited to this purpose. If not, they could consult the surveys department and forestry department, who have this information at their finger tips.

My belief is that the whole Adams Lake watershed should be made into a provincial park, but this again might easily become a repetition of the Butte Lake controversy in a few years time, as there are great potentialities for the development of power with the damming of the lake.

Economic Unstabilizer

By RAYMOND MOLEY

NEW YORK.—It has always seemed to me that Erie Johnston's personality and rhetoric ran far beyond the bounds of his understanding. At least, they ran far beyond the capacity of people to understand him. As president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, he told how business was bad and business was good. No, not exactly how, but that business was bad and good. And labor was bad and good. And social justice was all good. And what we needed was to march forward and be progressive, without defining where we should march or what it was to be progressive. I suspect that most people were charmed when they heard him and then didn't think much more about it or about Johnston, because it made little difference what he thought or whether he thought at all.

But it is different now, because he has a lot of power. He is our economic stabilizer, the Grand Vizier of prices and wages; and prices and wages mean a lot to all of us. And so we shall have to try to understand him, for if we do not understand him, we may be doing something that will destabilize us. That would be very bad, indeed. Whether we believe it or not, we are stabilized, or we were when Johnston first took this job. Of course, a lot of us have been feeling unstabilized for a long, long time and our only hope was that in our giddy whirl we would ultimately fall on the softest possible spot and break as few economic bones as possible.

So I confess that, while I have tried to understand Johnston, I am more confused than ever.

On August 3, the wage stabilization board decided to permit the inflation of wages, generally in line with the inflationary course of prices. All wage earners were told that they could negotiate escalator wage increases, based on the cost of living. This was approved by the wage stabilizer who, prior to that, had approved wage escalators which were already incorporated in wage contracts.

Then Johnston said: "It will have a definitely stabilizing effect by setting the pattern of wage adjustments geared to changes, up and down, in the cost of living." That is, it would stabilize instability. Johnston, since his initiation in the Fair Deal, has acquired a glib familiarity with the bureaucratic vocabulary, as is shown by the next sentence: "This is an appropriate yardstick in the present period." The word "yardstick" has been a Washington word ever since President Roosevelt used it to describe his public-power policy years ago. It turned out to be another kind of stick altogether.

Johnston says further: "Rigorous enforcement of the program is essential to prevent the cost of living from skyrocketing to new heights."

Thus, he says in one sentence that the policy is "definitely stabilizing" and in another that it may get out of control. How would it get out of control and skyrocket? Perhaps by permitting the granting of increases greater than the rise in the cost of living. Then, in the third sentence quoted above he admits that changes in wages will increase the cost of living. Otherwise, it would not skyrocket because of careless enforcement. But how can anything stabilize anything when it will itself destabilize everything? Where is the stabilizing effect of something that directly affects the cost of living?

When these escalator Rube Goldbergs came up in the late war, they were unheeded because the government said they would be inflationary. Now they are going to stabilize.

Finally, Johnston said, after the new Defense Production Act was passed in July, that the cost of living would rise 5 to 8 per cent in the next few months. Perhaps what is needed is something to stabilize Stabilizer Johnston.

India and the Japanese Treaty

By W. N. EWER

LONDON.—There is a very prevalent idea that India's decision not to attend the Japanese peace treaty conference is on the ground that, as one London paper put it this week, "the treaty is unfair to China and to Asian countries generally". But there is, in fact, in the Indian reply not a word to suggest anything of the kind. India's main reason for not attending the conference is that the draft does not sufficiently "concede to Japan a position of honor, equality and contentment among the community of free nations."

In other words, that it is not lenient enough. And, on the specific question of reparations, India has already announced her willingness to waive all claims.

Looked at from London, two of the three specific features of the draft to which the Indian government takes exception seem to be rather matters of form than of substance. It thinks that the Cairo declaration promising the return of Formosa to China should have been repeated in the treaty, though "the time and manner of such a return might be the subject of separate negotiations."

On the other hand, though it appears to have no objection to the proposed defense pact between Japan and the United States, it holds that defense arrangements should not have been referred to in the treaty, but that the right to make such a pact "should be exercised by the government of Japan when Japan has become truly sovereign."

The third point—the objection to the proposal to place the Bonin and Ryukyu Islands under United States trusteeship—is more obviously one of substance. But the reason for the objection is that such an arrangement "cannot but be a source of dissatisfaction for large sections of the Japanese people."

So there seems to me to be not the least basis for the rather excited suggestions which have been made, that India's refusal of the invitation is a sign that she is planning to lead some kind of Asian revolt against the draft treaty, with Russian approval and, probably, Russian support. For one thing, as I have pointed out, the Asian countries are divided among themselves on this quite important question of reparations. For another, there seems no resemblance between the Indian and the Soviet attitudes.

India's policy, as one sees it here, is a highly individual one and it is an understandable one. The chief criticism expressed in London is that the reasons adduced do not seem sufficient to "call for complete abstention, but rather to be a case for her delegate signing and making any observations felt necessary in the course of his speech at the conference. It may be that they felt in New Delhi that, especially if there were going to be a sharp conflict with Russia in San Francisco, the best way of stressing India's policy of "independence" would be to stay away. Let me add that responsible Indians are always insistent that they do not regard "independence" as in any way necessarily synonymous with "neutrality."

As for Gromyko and his concern for "those countries which suffered most from Japanese aggression": if he is going to make an issue of the reparations question, he will certainly find quite a measure of support in East Asian countries, to which the Soviet government may want to pay special attention at the moment. And the "indifferences" of the West to China's "just claims" would be a very useful theme for internal Chinese propaganda. But it is a theme which could have its embarrassments for Gromyko and his government.

For, alone among the Allies, Russia at the end of the war took over from the Japanese vast quantities of valuable assets. Not, indeed, as "reparations". Russia, uninvaded and at war for only a few days, had no shadow of a claim to reparations. Japan's enormously valuable properties in Manchuria were simply seized. The total value has never been accurately assessed, but it runs beyond any question into hundreds of millions of pounds.

In equity, this vast wealth—the direct result of aggression—should have been made available for the compensation of the principal sufferers, and especially of China. And this is certainly a subject on which Gromyko is likely

(From The Ottawa Journal)

DROOPING over our black type-writer, surrounded by other men in conservative suits and plain shirts, we long in our patient way for the new age. We know it is coming. From New York we have the information that color TV means a change that will turn man from a bedraggled crow into a gay peacock; a black-and-white tuxedo won't photograph well in color and so "a typical outfit" will be blue checks on a cream background, and (as if anyone ever had two tuxedos) a variety of grey checks on ecru. TV, we are further told, will immediately influence the dress of the man on the street so that we can look forward to the C.B.C. dictating our future blaring fashions.

The colorless male world within our present vision will, we are confident, be improved by the assurance that by next year iridescent green will be popular for business wear, and on Saturday mornings there will be blazers in old gold which later will gladden the golf course.

Hastening on with our TV course, we learn that the executive will board the Toronto airplane wearing a "jet-jacket", a mild maroon in color but so designed that he can unzip the back when he lounges in the plane. Why? So he won't sit on it, of course.

The man who was looking over our shoulder left in a hurry when he read: "How about a cornflower blue, pure Chinese cashmere, party-going sports jacket priced at around $200?"

At San Francisco the Japanese peace conference gathers without the magnetic Mr. Arthur or delegates from colorful India. However, for those who like quiet charm, there is Gromyko.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

ONE of the humors of being middle-aged is in seeing some old flame you might have married, and by heaven's grace, didn't. The great majority of men who have reached fifty must be extremely glad they married the girl they did.

In a restaurant last night, I saw a girl I went to school with, now a sort of three-decked galleon with all sail set. At school, she was one of those teacher's pet types, a number one girl in her class. Being at that time a sort of mamma's boy myself, the terrifying thought occurred to me, as I sat watching her taking the restaurant by storm last night, that we two good little children might have been attracted to each other, and our school-boys-schoolgirl friendship might have ripened.

Here she was dressed in a sort of gypsy outfit, a blue polka dot silk scarf draped over her head, her upper rigging festooned with clanking hardware of costume jewelry, her face made up like a mask, and her eyes that used to be those of a demure little Number One scholar were like burnt holes in the mask. They darted around the restaurant like horse flies.

Her voice was loud and fake. She had a flamboyant manner such as you see in extras in movies set to Strauss waltzes in old Vienna. Who could dream that out-of-such a little Easter egg as she had been in childhood would be hatched such a turkey?

Thank goodness she did not recognize me. For if she had, I am sure the restaurant would have rung with her laughter as she reflected on her childhood and thought how we two might have been attracted to each other...

Once a mamma's boy, always a mamma's boy, she would have shrieked to her companions.

Big Part Played by Anglican Clergy In Island's Development Since 1849

By JIM NESBITT

Today's gathering in Victoria of the august, scarlet-robed House of Bishops to elect a new Anglican-Primate of All Canada, brings to mind the long history of the Church of England on this island.

From the very earliest days, more than a century ago, Anglican missionaries have played their part in the development of this province. Intrepid priests, packs on their back, trudged through the forests to distant Cowichan and Sooke, ministering to the Indians, often helping them fight dread plagues of smallpox and diphtheria.

The first Anglican services were held in a rude shack within the walls of Fort Victoria. Today's election will be at the great stone Christ Church Cathedral.

FIRST CLERGYMAN

The Rev. Robert Staines was the first resident Anglican clergyman in Victoria. He and his wife came out from England in 1849 and started a school in the Fort. Mr. Staines was a servant of the Hudson's Bay Company, but he apparently decided the company had too much power. He and Governor Douglas were frequently in disagreement about this. Mr. Staines helped organize the few independent settlers in revolt, and in 1854 he sailed from parsonage which stood on McClure (where the B.C. Power Commission building is today). This early church caught fire and burned to the ground and the fire was a fine sight. The first Christ Church had been built by the Hudson's Bay Company. The boys had to go to the Collegiate School, in connection with the church.

NEW CATHEDRAL

Then 1872 a new cathedral was built, and it was followed in 1929 by the present cathedral. The old one was torn down.

First Anglican bishop in British Columbia was Right Rev. George Hills. He came in 1859 and remained until 1892, when he returned to England where he died in 1895. Bishop Hills and his dean, Edward Cridge, fell out over dogma and Cridge left to form the Reformed Episcopal Church, many of the cathedral congregation following him. The Hills-Cridge argument rocked Victoria for many weeks and horrified Anglican circles in Great Britain.

In 1892 Right Rev. W. W. Perrin succeeded Hills as bishop, remaining until 1911. He was succeeded by Bishop Roper (1911-15); Bishop Scriven (1915-16); Bishop Schofield (1916-34) and the present bishop, Right Rev. Harold Sexton.

FIRST MENTION

First newspaper mention of the Anglican Church in Victoria was in The Gazette of July 17, 1858: "Public divine worship—every Sunday afternoon religious services are conducted by Rev. Mr. Cridge (of the Episcopal Church of this city) in front of the Fort of the Hudson's Bay Company on Wharf Street."

St. John's Church (The Church of St. John the Divine) is one of the pioneer Anglican churches of Victoria. It once stood where the Hudson's Bay Company store is now. It was called "the iron church," because it was built of corrugated iron sent from England by the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, a wealthy Englishwoman who gave much money to Bishop Hills for his church activities on the Island. The iron left when the church was built was used for the first Bishop's Close, where the cathedral is today.

Another pioneer Anglican church is St. Stephen's in Saanich, built in 1862.

As the House of Bishops meets today, one thinks of the Rev. Mr. Staines and his zeal, not only for the spiritual welfare of the people, but for their physical well-being also. It might be said Staines died a martyr to the cause of freedom on this island.

News in Review

By ERITH M. SMITH
Colonist Telegraph Editor
(From AP, CP, INS, Reuters)

Two moves were made in Washington yesterday to strengthen future defenses of the western world.

In one, the United States and Portugal signed a new agreement linking the Azores Islands into the chain of North Atlantic defenses.

In the second, a Senate subcommittee approved minimum U.S. air strength of 95 wings (including from 30 to 35 aircraft carriers) and added a $5,000,000 emergency air power fund to the $56,000,000 House-passed military spending program.

What They're Saying

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in a visit to Cleveland, accused the Truman administration last night of a "steady drift toward totalitarian rule" in contrast to his own re-building of a democratic "new Japan." MacArthur also lashed the U.S. administration for what he called post-war military and diplomatic blunders.

W. G. Charlton, official of Imperial Oil Limited, told an Edmonton audience that Canada may become self-sufficient in oil. There were, he said, 160 companies operating in western Canada, and further oil discoveries were expected.

In Toronto, Charles Jennings, general supervisor of programs for the CBC, has denied reports of a "first-class row" between his organization and the BBC over radio coverage of the royal tour in October.

What They're Doing

The U.S. says a Washington dispatch has "new and terrible weapons of war" more devastating than improved atomic bombs or atomic warheads. This statement, made by Senator Milton Young (R-N.D.), served to confirm a similar statement made three days ago in San Francisco by President Truman.

In London, Britain has slammed the door on the prospect of renewing negotiations with Iran on the oil nationalization issue as long as Premier Mohammed Mossadegh remains in power.

A Washington report tells of establishment in the Arctic of a major U.S. airbase, directly on the shortest bomber route between Moscow and New York.

From Denver comes word of renewed copper production under a U.S. government court-order to halt the 10-day industry-wide strike.

The Senate military appropriations subcommittee in Washington has approved unanimously an amendment to ban gifts or entertainment for government employees involved in war contract negotiations.

People in the News

Discovery in an Illinois reservoir of a U.S. Wave's suitcase and clothing, stenciled with her name, led to an extensive search for her body yesterday. She was found—very much alive—at her husband's home in West Liberty, Iowa, where she is on leave. Her belongings, she explained, had been left behind by mistake in Chicago last Monday, and reported to railway authorities.

Dismiss Driving Charge Against Former Premier

A charge of careless driving against former B.C. Premier T. D. Pattullo was dismissed in city police court yesterday.

The charge resulted from a collision between Mr. Pattullo's car at Beechwood and Ross, in which a second driver, Frank Sails, 686 Hampshire Road, was injured.

The defendant, who had previously pleaded not guilty to the charge, did not appear in court, but was represented by Lloyd G. McKenzie.

NO EVIDENCE
Magistrate Henry C. Hall, reviewing the case before pronouncing judgment, said there was no evidence of improper care on the part of the defendant or undue speed at the time of the accident.

Fined $35 each on charges of careless driving were Robert J. Darragh, 730 Vancouver, and James F. Cannon.

Convicted and fined $5 each for failure to pay hospital insurance premiums were Hyman Kramer, 139 Cook; Kenneth Lee, 740 Princess, and Kee L. Lee, 1618 1/2 Government.

Woman, 86, Fined $300; Convicted of Bootlegging

An 86-year-old woman was convicted in Saanich police court yesterday on a charge of bootlegging.

Fined $300 was Pina Roffini, 3479 Belmont, after her lawyer, J. Ronald Grant, entered a plea of guilty on the charge. He told Magistrate Henry C. Hall that accused was in ill health and under a doctor's care and asked that the court impose a minimum fine.

Saanich police said nine cases of beer and five full bottles of liquor were found on her premises.

Horace Paul, Saanichton, was

Delivery Costs Seen as Key To Milk Prices

Reduction of the cost of milk deliveries is about the only way the ultimate cost to the consumer can be kept down, Frank H. Partridge, 151 Beach Drive, said yesterday in a letter to the city.

He said that in many North American cities there is a differential between cash and carry and delivered prices as high as four cents a quart.

"As it now stands, our free enterprise system has been entirely abandoned in the production and distribution of milk. This can only lead to still higher fixed prices because the competitive spirit is lost," wrote Mr. Partridge.

Recent amendments in Manitoba, he continued, included the right of retailers to sell milk at less than maximum board prices.

"Does it seem right that milk picked up at the creameries in town should be the same price as that delivered four or five miles out of town?" he asked.

Invite Hunters To Kill Ducks

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Sept. 6 (CP)—Saskatchewan authorities today created something of a hunters' paradise about 60 miles south of Moose Jaw.

They invited hunters to take an out-of-season shot at millions of hungry ducks growing fat on ripening grain around Johnston Lake.

There'll be no bag limit. No license will be needed. Hunters may shoot at any hour day or night. Even Sunday hunting will be permissible—for the first time in Saskatchewan.

LONDON (CP)—Curtains will be hung on the windows in some government offices. A ministry of works spokesman said the decision followed complaints by civil servants that sun shining on official papers makes the work harder.

Record Pioneer Dies in London

LONDON, Sept. 6 (Reuters)—

Fred Gaisberg, 78, the man who first recorded the voice of Enrico Caruso—against the orders of his firm—has died. It was announced today. He first heard Caruso sing in Milan in 1902. He asked permission to pay $200 for 10 recordings. The company called the fee exorbitant but Gaisberg ignored the orders.

Mike King Rugged Yard-Maker for Eskimos

Rugged Mike King (50) of Edmonton Eskimos seems bent on retaining recognition as all-star Western full-back which he gained last season. He gained 82 yards in 14 attempts as Eskimos downed Calgary this week and was downed on this play after gaining 12 yards.

Victoria United Preview Arranged With Farm Club Game Tomorrow

Soccer fans will be given a preview of this season's Victoria United team when it meets its Victoria and District Football League farm club, Victoria City, in an exhibition game at Beacon Hill tomorrow at 2:30 p.m.

Victoria City is composed of members of last year's junior Veterans of France and will hold joint workouts with United. The youthful players will be instructed along the United style of play and will be able to move up as United reserves without feeling misplaced. Both clubs will be coached by Wallace Milligan, star United forward, and City will be managed by Bob Bell, a former United player.

PLENTY OF STRENGTH

United will have plenty of strength between the posts and Joe Travis will have to be at his best to hold the goalkeeping job he had last season. Battling him for the starting berth are Bill McAllister, 1949-50 netminder, and Lorne Ettinger, goalie for Collingwood in the Vancouver and District Football League last year.

Only eight others of last season's team are trying for positions this year. They are Milligan, John Pickburn, Bob Allen, Cedric Robb, Don McGee, Don McGee, Stan Bob and Ab Travis.

Also trying for berths are Bill Hope, centre-half for Victoria West last year, Frank Grealey and Gordie Halson, both with Victoria City last season. John Spencer, former halfback from Scotland, and Reg Rowell, an English halfback. All will see action tomorrow except Rowell, who will be out of town for the week-end.

MAY CALL UP

Players who fail to make starting berths will play for City, and may be called up at any time. The clubs will hold their next practices at Royal Athletic Park on Tuesday and Thursday at 7 p.m. United will open its season at home against North Shore a week tomorrow.

Jimmy Spencer, playing manager of North Shore, has signed five of last season's squad and has strings on six other players.

Cowichan Bay Ban Eased For Sports Fishermen

Concerned with the plight of Cowichan Bay business men, J. F. Tait, regional supervisor of fisheries for Vancouver Island, yesterday announced a partial lifting of the partial closure of Cowichan Bay to sports fishing.

New boundaries of the closed area were not disclosed, but it is believed the boundary which extended from the north end of the C.N.R. wharf to Skinner's Bluff will be moved back to a line extending from the north end of the C.N.R. wharf to Mount Tzouhalem.

Meanwhile, good fishing reports are coming in from other parts of the island with coho and springer plentiful at the southern end and tyes being caught in numbers at Campbell River, Comox and Alberni.

Coho are reported good at Ten Mile Point, Sidney Spit to James Island, East Point and at Brentwood, although grise are so numerous they are proving a nuisance to anglers.

Winnipeg Leading Series As Girodays Downed, 2-1

VANCOUVER, Sept. 6 (CP).—Making the most of the breaks, Winnipeg Northern tonight defeated Vancouver Girodays, 2-1, in the opening game of the Western Canada senior men's softball final before 2,018 fans.

Second game of the best-of-five series will be played here tomorrow with an afternoon-night doubleheader scheduled for Saturday.

Young Sam Gamache turned in a neat seven-hitter for the winners and was never in real danger except for the sixth inning when Vancouver scored their single run. He struck out Frank Kozak, Vancouver City League batting four times, three of them with men on bases. Vancouver immediately brought out the crying towel after the game.

Manager Spike Abramson said he didn't like the way plate umpire Gord McDonald handled the game and would ask officials to sideline him for the rest of the series.

Winnipeg: 1st Inning, 1-0; 2nd, 1-0; 3rd, 2-0; 4th, 2-1; 5th, 2-1; 6th, 2-1; 7th, 2-1; 8th, 2-1; 9th, 2-1. Total, 2-1. Hits, 10; Runs, 2; Errors, 1. Pitching: Gamache, 7 innings, 7 hits, 1 run, 1 error, 10 strikeouts. Batters: Kozak, 4 at bats, 1 run, 1 error, 10 strikeouts. Fielding: Gamache, 1 error, 10 strikeouts. Total, 10 hits, 2 runs, 1 error, 10 strikeouts.

Dobbs Leads Grid League By Five Points

REGINA, Sept. 6 (CP).—Glenn Dobbs, 6-foot 4-inch quarterback of Saskatchewan Roughriders, has scored 22 points in four games for a five-point lead in the Western-Football Union individual scoring standings.

Official figures released today by league statistician Bill Hawrylak in Regina show the former star of Los Angeles Dons is followed by two team mates, centre Don (Red) Ettinger with 17 points and veteran backfielder Ken Charlton with 15.

Dobbs' 22 points come on two touchdowns and 12 singles scored on kicks to the deadline, and 11 conversions he hasn't missed any in conference play and has added two field goals.

Boxla Stars To Try Out For Title Bid

VANCOUVER, Sept. 6 (CP).—The team to represent British Columbia in the Canadian junior lacrosse final will be selected tomorrow night after a series of line trials here.

Players from the mainland and interior clubs have been invited to the trials.

Earlier, it was hoped to be able to send a B.C. championship team intact for the Minto Cup final later this month in the east.

But the title was declared vacant when Vancouver Roughriders, although winning the championship, were declared ineligible because they had used over-age players in the playoffs and during the regular league season.

Probe Attack On Landmark

VANCOUVER, Sept. 6 (CP).—Park board officials are today investigating an attempt to chop down one of Vancouver's most distinguished landmarks—the L-shaped tree which sprouts out of Swash Rock in Stanley Park.

The vandals chopped about a quarter of the way through the tree and then apparently attempted to pull it down with a rope.

Park board high riggers are checking to see if the damage is permanent. Vandals apparently walked across the beach to the rock at low tide.

Fletcher Wins Open Tourney At Saskatoon

SASKATOON, Sept. 6 (CP).—Pat Fletcher, pro at the host Saskatoon Golf and Country Club, came from behind with below-par rounds today to win the Saskatchewan open golf championship.

Fletcher produced like a true champion after being five strokes back of the leader at the end of the first 18 holes in the 54-hole, two-day tournament. He followed his opening 74 with a 68 and then a last round 67 to equal the competitive record for the course held jointly by himself and former Regina pro Wilf Greenwood, now at Windsor, Ont.

Three strokes behind Fletcher with a card of 212 for second was Harold West, partly unattached from Portland, Ore. He put together rounds of 71-72-69.

Bob Kidd, Vancouver Marine Drive, won the playoff for low amateur with Cliff Soberg, Saskatoon Golf and Country Club, and Willingham Capper, on the 35th hole as he scored a birdie four to Soberg's par five. They ended the 54-hole test tied with 217.

Golf—Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

Pictured at the left is the top of the backswing with woods, and at the right you see the top of the backswing with irons. The backswing with irons is shorter than with woods. Irons are for precision or placement shots. You are striving for particular distance, not for all the distance you can get, as with woods. Further, the shorter the iron the more you open your stance. And the more your body limits the backswing. For example, if you use the correct stance for the No. 7 iron, which is a very open stance, you can swing as far back as with the stance for a No. 2 iron, which calls for only a slightly opened stance. But if you have taken your stance correctly, your stance will give you an almost automatic control as to how far back you should swing.

List of Entries Extensive For Dog Show

Practically every kennel on Vancouver Island and the B.C. mainland will be represented, and entries have come from California, Oregon and Washington for the Victoria City Kennel Club championship shows to-day and tomorrow.

A breed new to Victoria will be shown for the first time. It is the hairless-Basset, a native of the African Congo, and brought here from Hong Kong. Its owner is also displaying a greyhound, which, like the Basset, was a big winner in the Orient. Most popular of the 40 breeds entered are the spaniels, both cockers and springers, in the sporting group. Other breeds widely represented are terriers, poodles, boxers and Pomeranians. Both shows will be held in the Crystal Garden lower ballroom and annex. Judging will start at 10 a.m. each day, with Mrs. Margaret Bowden officiating today and Walter Pym at the final show.

Injured Player Back in Action With Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (AP)—Jack Stewart, star defense player whose hockey career was believed ended last December when a disc was removed from his spine, today signed a 1951 contract with Chicago Black Hawks. After medical examination following a serious back injury in an N.H.L. game, it was reported Stewart would never play again. Stewart said he got his back strengthened by hard work on his wheat farm in Manitoba.

Boxing Group Plans to Give Scholarships

The Vancouver Island Amateur Boxing Association is making extensive plans to arrange a scholarship for its most deserving member each year. It was reported at the annual meeting at Nanaimo on Sunday that funds have already been promised and a panel of four was set up to work with Dr. J. M. Ewing, Victoria College principal, on the proposal. It is hoped the scholarship will begin next year. ## Sparked by Rail Surge, Prices Reach New Highs

By A.P. and C.P. Railroads surged ahead yesterday in the New York stock market and boosted the general price level with an almost single-handed display of strength. Rail gains ran to between $2 and $3 a share with Nickel-Plate adding $5. Elsewhere the advance halted in the $1-$2 range at the close.

Issues fell to the minus side, in some cases among leaders by nearly $2 a share. The A.P. average of 60 stocks established a new 1951 high for the second straight session. The average has advanced seven straight sessions, the longest unbroken series of gains this year. The volume expanded to 2,150,000 shares, the best since June 2.

At Toronto, industrials' rapid advance slowed toward the session's close but retained enough strength to push to another record high.

Trading was heavy as activity continued to spread from leading issues. Volume was about 2,800,000 shares.

Steel and papers continued to stand well in front of a steady climbing list.

In Montreal, stock prices continued to move higher towards the close on the stock exchange, but curb market and trading remained active.

Plus signs held a good margin from the opening with changes ranging from minor fractions to more than a point among the leaders.

A strong papers group led the advance.

Metals, Oils Up
At Vancouver, base metals and oils continued active and upward on the stock exchange. Golds were unchanged.

At Winnipeg, oils came in for some fairly aggressive buying from American houses and export interests, and prices scored good gains on the grain exchange.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat included 1,400,000 bushels in Switzerland, more than 1,000,000 bushels for the United Kingdom, 400,000 for Belgium, 350,000 for Italy, and sample lots for Norway and the West Indies.

Gough No. 10 Major Find For Gulf Oil

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 6.—Gulf Oil Corporation has reported discovery in a wildcat well, Gough No. 10, in western Canada. Located approximately eight miles south of producing fields at Stettler and seven miles north of Big Valley, the well indicates that the company may have a discovery of major proportions. Gulf has strong lease position in the immediate vicinity of the well.

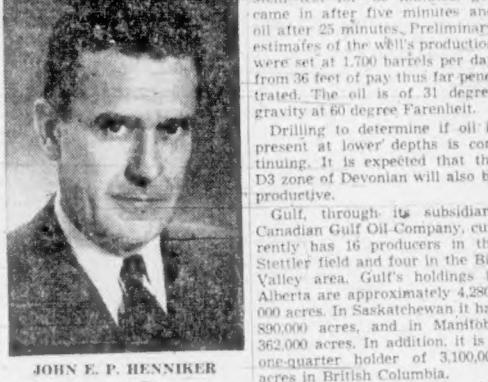

Production was obtained at 5,175 to 5,211 feet in the D-2 zone of Devonian formation. On drill stem test for 30 minutes, gas came in after five minutes and oil after 25 minutes. Preliminary estimates of the well's production were set at 1,700 barrels per day from 36 feet of pay thus far penetrated. The oil is of 31 degree gravity at 60 degree Fahrenheit.

Drilling to determine if oil is present at lower depths is continuing. It is expected that the D-3 zone of Devonian will also be productive.

Gulf, through its subsidiary Canadian Gulf Oil Company, currently has 16 producers in the Stettler field and four in the Big Valley area. Gulf's holdings in Alberta are approximately 4,280,000 acres. In Saskatchewan it has 890,000 acres, and in Manitoba 362,000 acres. In addition, it is a one-quarter holder of 3,100,000 acres in British Columbia.

Registration at Victoria College To Be Lower This Year Than Last

By DEE LAVOIE
Registration at Victoria College for the forthcoming term is expected to be slightly lower than last year's 319, according to Miss Dorothy Cruickshank, college registrar.

"The reason for this," she explained, "is that the graduating classes from the high schools in Greater Victoria were smaller this year."

Incidentally, last year, men students outnumbered women two to one.

Deadline for registration is Monday, September 17, and a rush of last-minute applications is expected, as students return from holidays and leave summer jobs to sign up for first and second year courses offered in arts and science.

No new courses have been added to the curriculum, which lists English as the one subject required by every student.

Several staff changes will go into effect in the new term, with Miss Gwladys V. Downes replacing Miss Claude Trell, who has accepted a position in the French department at U.B.C. John Carson will take over the assistant professorship of classics left vacant by the retirement of G. P. Black, while Douglas G. Lochhead will replace Miss K. Matthews as registrar.

All books required for the college course are available right in the Lansdowne Road building at the book store managed by Mrs. Joyce McKay.

"Students can buy second-hand books in good condition as long as they last," Mrs. McKay said, "and students who come early enough may be able to get a complete set at a big saving. Latecomers will have to pay more for new books."

Complete school and writing supplies are also for sale at the store, which is open during registration hours until the term begins, and part-time during the school year.

Plans are being completed for the opening ceremony, set for 10 a.m. Thursday, September 20, when Dr. John Ewing, principal of the college, J. B. Clearhue, chairman of the Victoria College Council, and representatives of the C.O.E.C. and U.N.T.D. will address the new student body.

Four qualities in man will prevent Communism from enslaving the world.

This opinion was expressed yesterday by Rev. John F. Coma of Port Angeles in an address to the Victoria Rotary Club.

These four qualities, said Mr. Coma, are the inherent goodness present in man, love of family which places one's own above all else, a knowledge of the value of freedom, and the force of religion.

"Every man in the world is in possession of these qualities," said Mr. Coma. "If any force, be it Communism or any other, should attempt to deprive man

Home-Building Permits Show Drop in Saanich

Building permits for homes issued in Saanich thus far this year are more than half a million dollars less in value than for an equal period in 1950.

Total value of building permits issued for all types of construction is almost equal for both years however.

In the first eight months of 1951, 502 permits of a total value of $1,729,910 were issued; in 1950, 589 permits for construction valued at $1,734,412 were issued. Only 213 dwelling permits for homes were issued in 1951, compared to 348 permits for $1,330,297 worth of construction in 1950. Helping to keep the overall value nearly equal were permits issued for the addition to Veterans' Hospital and Strawberry Vale school and the new Cadboro Bay school.

Figures for August of both years are as follows: 1951—Permits issued, 85; value, $173,340; dwelling permits, 29; value, $130,850. 1950—Permits issued, 82; value, $171,950; dwelling permits, 30; value, $151,100.

Officer Denies Political Talk

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 6 (Reuters).—Per Edvard Danielsen, 33-year-old Norwegian Naval Reserve officer accused of espionage, today denied he had discussed the political views of Norwegian officers with a Russian naval attaché.

Police alleged that Danielsen, son of a former chief of the Norwegian Navy, earlier said he sometimes discussed the views of other officers with Capt. Vladimir Koshalev, a Russian naval attaché in whose company he was arrested last April.

Special Notice to Employers AND Those Enlisting in Armed Forces

By The Veterans Benefit Act, 1951, passed at the last session of Parliament, the Government of Canada has extended and made applicable the provisions of the Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act, 1946, to all persons enlisting in the Regular Forces of Canada after July 5, 1950, (nineteen fifty) and who serve therein for a term not exceeding three years.

This provision extends also to members of the Special Force who re-engage for service with the Regular Forces, the three-year coverage period beginning with the date of re-engagement.

This provision extends also to members of the Reserve Forces who after July 5, 1950, are called out for service with the Regular Forces and serve with the Regular Forces for a period not exceeding three years.

By an Order in Council passed in 1950 under the Canada Forces Act, the provisions of the Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act, 1946, were extended to members of the Special Force and members of the Reserve Forces who serve on the strength of the Special Force. The reinstatement provisions of this Order in Council have now been incorporated in the provisions of the Veterans Benefit Act, 1951.

Under the Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act a discharged person may claim reinstatement either verbally or in writing, usually within three months of discharge in Canada or four months if discharged overseas. There is provision for extension of this time when through a condition of health the employee cannot return to his employment this soon, but the employer must be notified in three or four months, as the case may be, and a Reinstatement Officer should be consulted.

Find Two Cases Of Poultry Plague

Two new cases of Newcastle disease among British Columbia poultry flocks were discovered during the last two weeks of August, Dr. T. Childs, veterinary director-general of the Department of Agriculture, reported yesterday.

Members Build Barbecue Pits At Beach Park

Members of the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club added another item to their long list of community projects last week-end when they constructed a double barbecue pit at the Willows Beach Park.

Cost of the project was estimated at $200 by a contractor, so club members decided to build it themselves. Two days' work and Arthur Songhurst, Elwood Luney, Frederick Robinson, Frederick Norris and Richard Carey had the project completed.

Price Controls Held Not Cure For Inflation

NANAIMO, Sept. 6.—Price controls will not solve inflation in Canada, Professor R. M. Clark, U.B.C. assistant professor of economics, told the Association of B.C. Assessors at convention yesterday.

Price controls, Professor Clark said, would only serve as a hold-back and would not be the solution to the basic problem.

Alderman Charles Wharton welcomed the 70 delegates to the convention, which continues today with the election of officers.

Other speakers were Dean S. Mansell, president of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards; Michael Lakes, B.C. government solicitor; R. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs; H. L. Robinson, provincial courthouse land registrar, and R. R. Howay, association president.

Nanaimo Body Urges Freight Parity

NANAIMO, Sept. 6.—Strong steps to obtain parity freight transportation rates with Vancouver must be taken if Nanaimo is not to be left in the back ground, the Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce decided at its weekly meeting here Thursday.

The subject was raised by banker R. H. Mawhinney, who declared that without parity Nanaimo would be isolated. He urged the matter be taken up with the Railway Association of Canada, which had recommended either parity rates or modification of such a plan.

JOIN COUNCIL

Nanaimo and its people should not be at a disadvantage with Vancouver and we should join hands with the finance committee of the city council to carry this matter to a successful conclusion," Mr. Mawhinney said.

Reginald Bultenbach said that parity rates were dependent upon two-terminal centres, with which Mr. Mawhinney did not agree. He declared it to be an illogical answer.

It also completed plans for the visit of 106 New Westminster Board of Trade members here Sept. 21.

Douglas Greer reported on plans for a Community Chest and passed on information obtained from a Canadian welfare official. The chamber is endeavoring to spearhead a move for a Community Chest but will not be responsible for its operation.

Capt. Louis Zuvich of Seattle was fined $1,000 when he pleaded guilty in New Westminster police court yesterday to fishing in Canadian waters without a license from the minister of fisheries.

It was the first case of its kind in several years involving infraction of the international fishing regulations.

Zuvich was discovered fishing and in possession of 1,500 pink salmon four miles out of Canoe Pass, Wednesday.

Magistrate Harry G. Johnson, in assessing the maximum penalty, said Canadian seiners are not even allowed in the restricted district where the Seattle boat was picked up.

UNLOADS HERE

One hundred and eighty tons of general cargo were discharged here yesterday by the British Mv. Jessmore.

The shipment included machinery, china and woolen goods from the United Kingdom.

King Bros. shipping agents said the Ss. Oceanside was due in last night to load 400,000 feet of lumber for the U.K. and the Ss. Islandside was also due in at the same time to start loading 600,000 feet of lumber for the U.K. today.

The Mary G. Goulardis is due at Cowichan Bay Saturday to load 500,000 feet of lumber for New York. The vessel will also pick up 600,000 feet of lumber at this port Sept. 10.

INCOME UP

Canada's sea-going fishermen are hauling in fewer fish, but their catch is bringing more cash.

The bureau of statistics reported in Ottawa yesterday that 122,746,000 pounds were landed in July, down 15.2 per cent from 144,793,000 on the corresponding month—last year. The value jumped 25.3 per cent to $10,978,000 from $8,693,000.

A similar trend apparently had shown in previous months. Total landings for the seven months of 1951 dropped to $61,271,000 from $76,376,000 last year, but the value increased to $35,801,000 from $32,965,000.

RHEUMATIC PAIN Can Be Costly!

"This winter I had to quit work because of rheumatic pain," writes Mr. T. G. Glosche, Wilton, Ont. "I became fearful of being laid up as on a previous occasion with rheumatic pain. My pain became increasingly severe and spread from hip to ankle. Out of bed, the leg felt cold as though in cold water, so I stayed in bed. A friend persuaded me to take T-R-C's and I'm glad I did. In a short while I was relieved of my pain and was soon on the job again."
